Curriculum Corner
Religion	Our last two religion chapters have focused on air and weather. The children learned that God is all around us just like air and that all types of weather are needed for different purposes.
Math	In math the children are working on patterns. They are learning to extend a pattern given to them and how to create their own pattern.
Reading	I introduced the letters X,Y and Z this week. We are focusing on recognition as well as sound for these letters.

Congratulations to these great kids who earned Bananas!
